DETAILS

Andi Wagner was last seen leaving her grandparents' home on August 6, 2022. An associate stated he took her to his Newburgh home, fell asleep around 2:30 a.m., and that Andi left around that same time. When Andi's mother learned she was missing, she called Andi's phone and the call was answered—only to be hung up on. When she called again, she discovered her number had been blocked.

The FBI, EPD and ISP have searched multiple locations in connection with Andi's disappearance and collected evidence for testing. Still, Andi remains missing—and no one has been charged in connection with her disappearance.
